THE NEED FOR ADVOCACY SKILLS

Trends:

- Underrepresentation in leadership
- Educational gap for low-income schools
- Confidence gap in marginalized communities

Need:

- Advocacy skills
- Proactive education

PIVOTAL VENTURES PORTFOLIO

Strength

PV masterfully finds and funds the “end game” of our future political power

Investments in:

- Vote, Run, Lead
- National Women’s Law Center

What is missing?

There is no early-stage program.

We are missing opportunities for a more diverse pool of educated young people.

Our Position

To bridge the gap between high school education and equipped to enact policy change, Civic Voices provides a stream of opportunity

THE SOLUTION - CIVIC VOICES

Phase One – 6 months Knowledge Building

- Online, micro-learning modules
 - Policy Analysis
 - Strategic Communication
 - Coalition Building

Phase Two – 6 months Applied Advocacy

- Capstone Project
 - Complete as cohort
 - Real-world campaign
 - Enact real change

Phase Three – over course of 1 year Ongoing Mentorship

- Pair students with PV-aligned professionals
- Tailor to their interests
- Minimum of one year

EFFICACY AND SCALABILITY

Data-driven outcomes:

- Skill uplift of at least 50%
- Policy action of at least 60%
- Pipeline placement with 40% retention

Outreach:

- To ensure we will reach all minds, we will create a digital toolkit
 - Sold to school districts as curriculum
 - Individuals may subscribe to learning modules

Scalability:

- Recruit from Title One schools
- 30 students per cohort
- Connect with PV and related orgs.
- Begin in NC, expand each year

SUSTAINABILITY AND INNOVATION

The Focus

- Curriculum emphasizes policy analysis over political action (voting and elections)

Project-based Learning

- Phase 2 must address local challenge

Empowering Marginalized-Groups

- specifically targeted to underrepresented communities
- Focused on equity and justice

Sustainability

- Sustainable ecosystem of civically engaged, young people, ensuring impact continues beyond the grant period

This plan combines the best elements of leadership development, project-learning, and policy substance training into a single, cohesive product.

Current partnership of PV emphasizes active politically knowledgeable individuals. This program will ensure PV can invest in these individuals for years to come.
